New Audiobook- Ten to Life, Wild Covid Delirium Tales

Joyner Outdoor Media Proudly Announces the Audiobook release of Ten to Life, Delirium Tales of a Covid-19 Survivor, by Mike Joyner

Cortland, NEW YORK – Joyner Outdoor Media announces the audiobook release of Ten to Life, Delirium Tales of a Covid-19 Survivor, by McGraw resident Mike Joyner

A new audiobook version follows the June 16th title release in paperback, hardcover, and kindle book offerings. The author is happy to provide the title in an additional audio format that is helpful to Covid-19 survivors, those suffering Long Covid-19 symptoms that have difficulty reading in their recovery. The author, Mike Joyner solicited the narrating talent of Tim Carper from Lexington, Kentucky as a natural fit for the project.

Publisher's Summary -A Covid-19 journey into the abyss, delirium, hallucinations from the far reaches of the mind. Forty days were spent in four hospitals. While intubated for eighteen days, sedated in an induced coma, he faced a ten percent chance of surviving it and found himself in the fight for his life.

The audiobook is now available on Audible/Amazon
